Corporate Account Manager (Contractor)

Are you an experienced Business Development professional? Do you have an entrepreneurial attitude? Are you looking to provide your network of C-level contacts an opportunity to enhance their profits? G4 Advisors, LLC has the perfect opportunity for you! We are seeking Corporate Account Managers to join our team. Working on an independent contractor basis, this is an opportunity for you to develop and enhance your personal network. In your role as a Corporate Account Manager, you will sell consulting service agreements providing companies with the opportunity to utilizing our industry experts and consultants to negotiate contracts and reduce expenses.

Job Responsibilities

As a Corporate Account Manager, you will combine your entrepreneurial attitude and sales talents to market and sell both contingency based service agreements and defined scope contracts. There are no defined territories or boundaries to your service area.

As a contractor you will be working for yourself, with the freedom to work from home, set your own hours and schedule your own activities. Successful candidates will possess superior self-management skills, a professional demeanor, and an overarching desire to help others. Ideal candidates, in addition will have a current network of C-level contacts within corporations that range in size from $3 Million gross revenue and up.

Compensation

We offer best-in-industry commissions based on GROSS REVENUE per service agreement or contract. Our commissions are MORE THAN DOUBLE the industry average! Commissions are also available for referrals that convert to sales.

Other

All applicants must be authorized to work in the US. We are focusing on candidates local to the mainland USA and are not providing sponsorship for this position.

“At G4 Advisors we continually strive to better ourselves, our services and our products.”
